Seen, Heard and Done Among Those Who Go, Come and Tarry—Women and Society, Here and Elsewhere

BY MISS E. NELLIE BECK.
Telephone 669.

MRS. BRAWNER'S FLINCH.

Mrs. F. E. Brawner entertained the Excelsior Flinch Wednesday afternoon very pleasantly at her hilltop home. Her special guests in addition to the club members were, Mrs. Pittman, Miss Lennie Gould, Miss Jennie Cook, Mrs. Dan Sheppard, Miss Lotte Rice, Miss Burrow, Mrs. J. M. Flinn and Mrs. F. M. Williams.

The score cards were dainty little Jap fans, and after the game delicious cake and cream were enjoyed.

JOLLY PICNICERS.

A party composed of Mrs. W. Carter of Cottonwood Falls, Kan., Mr. and Mrs. Burnham, Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Miss Belle Johnson, Mrs. Alex. Maule of Cottonwood Falls, Miss Marie and Miss Celia Hutton, Mrs. C. M. Gregory of Cottonwood Falls, Mrs. M. Tonnart, Miss Lillah, Miss Irene and Miss Agnes Tonnart, Mr. Frank Johnson and Mr. J. M. Tonnart left Tuesday morning on the launch Cupid for what is known as Butcher Pen, remaining until late in the evening after spending a most delightful day in fishing and bathing.

THE LAWN PARTY FOR LIBRARY.

The lawn party given by Mrs. Scarritt Moreno at her lovely home on North Barcelona last evening was a great success, socially and satisfactory financially though, until the bills are paid the result can not be definitely known, but it will net $40 or more no doubt, for the Pensacola Library.

The hostess was gracefully assisted by Mrs. John C. Avery, Mrs. J. S. McGaughey, Mrs. W. McK. McCallan, Mrs. McGibbin, Mrs. Walker Anderson, Mrs. W. C. Jones, Mrs. S. A. Moreno, Miss Carrie Roberts and Miss Fannie Jones, all daintily gowned.

A neighbors collie dog created a diversion by entering into the peanut tumb with what the children regarded as "over zeal" and a "dog's trick," finding and chewing decidedly more than his honest share, though he was awarded no prize.

Delightful ice cream and cake were served and Japanese fans and other pretty trifles were sold. But the peanut hunt and the award of prizes were the chief features enjoyed by the youngsters.

Billie Roberts captured the first prize, a pretty little Japanese cup and saucer, while the booby went to Trabee Johnson who had a lot of fun with it—a skeleton—"Death to your hopes."

Miss Gertrude Roberts won the girl's first a pretty Jap fan and Miss Beatrice Howe received the booby a pretty piece of bric a brace.

WESTVILLE
NEWS NOTES

Special to The Journal.

Westville, May 17.—Rev. R. Q. Baker preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday and Sunday night.

Circuit court convened at Bonifay Monday with Hon. C. B. Parkhill presiding.

Mr. C. S. Mathews, of Barkers, Fla., passed through here Monday en route to Bonifay to attend court.

Mr. Mike Vaughan, an ex-Confederate soldier, and an old resident of this county, died at his home last week.

Mr. Wright's bridge crew is here now.

Hon. D. A. Simmons and W. T. Bludworth attended circuit court at Bonifay Monday.

Mr. M. M. Owens, our popular postmaster, made a trip to Graceville last week.

It seems that the effort to make a new county on the west side of the river out of this part of Holmes has not been crowned with much success.

Rev. P. G. Woodruff returned on the mail train Monday night from an extended preaching trip.

There was quite an electric storm in Westville Monday night, and Tuesday morning the rain was very heavy.

CAPT. GEO. W. ELY, T. P. A.,
ARRANGING EXCURSIONS.

Capt. Geo. W. Ely, traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific and several other western railroads, with headquarters at 13 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., was in Pensacola yesterday looking up business for the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland this year.

Capt. Ely says some remarkably attractive excursion rates are going to be put on for the exposition and he believes that a great many Pensacola people will find it practicable to attend.

The captain has numerous friends in Pensacola who remembered him pleasantly from previous visits and who were glad to greet him again. He leaves this morning for Tallahassee.

The Journal's Daily Fashion Feature

Showing three modish and most artistic coiffures for evening. Flowers are used quite extensively in the hair of younger women, but heavy ornaments and fancy combs are left to the matron.

Lawful Debt Legally Collected.

When Mike left the employ of Brother Rubbles, who keeps a country store and also "farms it" in Washington county, Me., he owed a considerable balance to Brother Rubbles. Mike seemed quite willing to forget about it, but more intimate acquaintances of Brother Rubbles never lost faith that the account would be squared in due time.

After Brother Rubbles had ceased even to drop gentle hints about the little bill Mike became the owner of a single lusty hog, of which he was indifferently proud. He bragged about it unceasingly, and Brother Rubbles made a friendly call one day to see it and praised the hog in a way that delighted the heart of the lucky owner.

"Can't see how ye got him so fat, Mike," said Brother Rubbles. "Mine don't fill out that way. I guess it takes an Irishman to bring up a pig." Then after a pause Brother Rubbles added: "I've got a shote I'll give ye if ye want it. I should like to see what ye can do with my stock."

There is an old saying that sets forth the danger of trusting the Greeks even when they offer gifts, but Mike had never heard it. At the first opportunity he went over to Brother Rubbles' barn and brought away the sorriest looking shote that ever lived.

The next day Brother Rubbles "levied" on the big hog. The law would not have permitted him to do that so long as Mike was the owner of only one pig.

Just Streets.

"The highest street in the world," said a globe trotter, "is Main street in Denver, the richest in Fifth avenue in New York, the widest is Market street in Philadelphia and the shortest is the Rue Ble in Paris. This street is only twenty feet long. The dirtiest street is Tchongat in Nankin, the cleanest is the Via Castle in Seville, the most aristocratic is Grosvenor place, London; the most beautiful is the Avenue des Champs Elysees, Paris. The narrowest street is Via Sol, Havana, which has a width of forty-two inches. The ugliest street is considered by many foreign artists and architects to be Broadway, New York, with its skyscrapers."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Warsaw's "Social Glass."

The town of Warsaw, Russia, may be called the milk producers' Eden. There is probably nowhere such a "milk town." Restaurants are but little frequented. On the other hand, the public frequents the various dairies in great numbers in order to chat with friends or read the newspapers to the accompaniment of black or white coffee or a glass of cold or warm milk.

To close a bargain or to talk business the milk saloon is resorted to. Chess and billiards are allowed to be played in these recognized places of public resort.—London Times.

When Saddles Were First Used.
It is supposed that the saddle was invented about the middle of the fourth century, but the fact, in the opinion of some, has not been positively proved. Zonaras, the historian, tells us that Constantine the younger was killed in the year 340, when he fell from his saddle. The word translated into saddle also means, however, the back of the horse or the place where the rider sits. It is true, nevertheless, that Sidiolus Apollinaris used the word that unmistakably refers to the saddle.

The Two Evils.

"There's just two things that break up most happy homes," observed the Polish philosopher.
"What's them?" inquired the Squeak ignoramus.
"Woman's love for dry goods and man's love for wet goods," b'gosh!"—Washington Post.

Clean Monday.

We have in Great Britain our Good Friday, but Clean Monday is peculiarly a Grecian institution. It is the day that ushers in the great Lenten fast at Athens, and the people go holiday making to eat Lenten fare on the hills around the city, while the shepherds and country people dance the ancient Greek dances in the old temples. This practice is termed "cutting the nose of Lent," and obviously Clean Monday is parallel to our Shrove Tuesday and its pancakes.—London Telegraph.

Raising the Hat.

The polite custom of raising the hat to a lady dates back to the days of chivalry, when knights never appeared in public except in armor. On entering the house of a friend, however, or a room in which there were ladies, it became the custom for a knight to remove his helmet as a sign that, being in the presence of friends, he was safe from attack.

Plant That Mimic Stones.
In South Africa a plant of the genus mesembryanthemum, growing on stony ground, so closely resembles a pebble that it has been picked up in mistake for a stone. Another species of the same plant, growing on the hills around the Karro, produces two leaves about as large as ducks' eggs, having a surface resembling weathered stone of a brownish gray color tinged with green. These plants look like stones, but for a short time they put forth bright yellow flowers. Still another species of the same plant resembles the quartz pebbles among which it grows.—Youth's Companion.

OLD SORES OFFENSIVE DANGEROUS

Nothing is more offensive than an old sore that refuses to heal. Patiently, day after day, it is treated and nursed, every salve, powder, etc., that is heard of is tried, but does no good, until the very sight of it grows offensive to the sufferer and he becomes disgusted and morbid. They are not only offensive, but dangerous, because the same germ that produces cancerous ulcers is back of every old sore. The cause is in the blood and as long as it remains the sore will be there and continue to grow worse and more destructive.

The fact that thousands of old sores have been cut out and even the bones scraped, and yet they returned, is indisputable evidence that the blood is diseased and responsible for the sore or ulcer. Some years ago my blood became poisoned, and the doctor told me I would have running sores for life and that if they were closed up the result would be fatal. Under this discouraging report I left off their treatment and resorted to the use of S. S. S. Its effects were prompt and gratifying. It took only a short while for the medicine to entirely cure up the sores, and I am not dead as the doctors intimated I would be, neither have the sores ever broken out again. JOHN W. FUNDIS, Wheeling, W. Va., May 28, 1903.

Valuable time is lost in experimenting with external treatments, such as salves, powders, washes, etc., because the germs and poisons in the blood must be removed before a cure can be effected. S. S. S. cleanses and purifies the circulation so that it carries rich, new blood to the parts and the sore or ulcer heals permanently. S. S. S. not only removes the germs and poisons, but strengthens the blood and builds up the entire system by stimulating the organs, increasing the appetite and giving energy to the weak, wasted constitution. It is an exhilarating tonic, aids the digestion and puts every part of the body in good healthy condition. Book on the blood, with any medical advice wished, without charge.

LEMP'S

Beer needs no words of recommendation and praise before the public. A beverage as brewed by that extensive firm is like U. S. currency—people take it because they know it is an

Excellent

and genuine article, and that, like pure air and nutritive food, it is beneficial to health. Because the beer of the Hofbrauerer in Munich is delicious, men, women and children are seen waiting for hours to be served, because the supply of is not equal to the demand. Even so with Lemp's product. Located at St. Louis he established one of the largest breweries in the world, and yet every year the capacity has to be increased.

Beer
